I expected that he would remind me of Stanton, but he much resembled Butler. Stand General Butler on a chair to help his stature, prop his eyes open and give him power, and you have the nearest resemblance to Count Bismarck that I can think of among American leaders.—Near by him, on a rosewood table, lay a Prussian officer's helmet, and if he had put it on I think that Front de Bouf would have been before me in armor."

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. D. HARRISON.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,

LOCATED IN AND ADJOINING THE TOWN OF WARRENTON, N. C.

FOR SALE.

The Warrenton Female College is now offered for sale, on reasonable terms. This College has been in successful operation, for over twelve years, and, during that time, it has earned a reputation as an Institution of learning, second to none in N. C.

The location is such as to warrant a full attendance of pupils, being very accessible from any point, especially the Eastern portions of N. C. and Va.,

The Committee, who have been empowered to make sale of this property, deem it unnecessary to say more of this Institution as its character for a high grade of scholarship, and the elevated standard of morals inculcated, under the eye and supervision of its late President, E. E. Parham, is already well known.

The society in which this College is located is known to be equal to any in the South.

There is now a sufficiency of Buildings and other Conveniences attached to this Real Estate, to conduct a large and flourishing school. The premises contain about SIXTY ACRES of Land a material portion of which is within the Corporation. This, with all or a part of the furniture, &c., belonging to the same, can be purchased with the land and buildings. This property will be offered privately for sale until Wednesday the 3rd day October next, and, if not then sold, will be on that day sold, at public auction, to the highest bidder.

The Committee are fully authorized to sell, and would say that a rare chance is offered to any party wishing to purchase such property, as time sufficient, if required, will be given. Possession given immediately.

Any person or party wishing to examine the property will be shown it by, E. E Parham, the present occupant, or by any one or more of the Committee.

IMPORTANT SALE.

IN WILSON NORTH CAROLINA

to make sale of that VALUABLE PROPERTY, including all the buildings, together with about Twelve and a fourth Acres of Land, will offer the same at public auction, on the 14th day of September next.

The Seminary is a large and commodious building, admirably arranged for school purposes, and contains a sufficient number of rooms to accommodate about TWO HUNDRED STUDENTS. The buildings are nearly new, having been erected in 1860, and are of every kind needed in a first class Seminary.

The Seminary is located on the Eastern boundary of the town of Wilson, below the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, and on an elevated spot of ground, well shaded, and having excellent wells of water. The proverbial healthiness of the town of Wilson, (it being the highest point on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad,) and the morality, intelligence and refinement of its citizens, make it one of the most desirable locations for a first class, Male or Female, Seminary in the State.

Of the 12¼ acres of land a sufficient quantity will be sold for school or other purposes, together with all the buildings formerly used by Seminary, and the balance of the land will be sold in lots, the size of which will be announced on the day of sale.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-fourth cash; on the balance a credit of six months will be given.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES, } Editors.

Friday Evening, Sept. 14, 1866.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AS IT IS, AND THE UNION AS IT WAS. NO FURTHER AMENDMENTS.

FOR GOVERNOR. JONATHAN WORTH, OF RANDOLPH.

County Meeting.

We are requested to suggest that a meeting of the conservative citizens of Wake, who support the policy of President Johnson, and are favorable to the re-election of Gov. Worth, be held at the Court House, in this city, on Saturday, the 22nd. inst., for the purpose of nominating candidates to represent this County in the next Legislature, and of consulting together upon the condition of the country.

It is very desirable that the conservatives in each Captain's district take steps to be represented upon the occasion.

The Prospect Ahead.

Will the Radicals triumph in the approaching Fall elections in the North? This is a question in which the South is profoundly interested. Though a silent, she is a deeply concerned, spectator of the struggle that is waging in that quarter between the friends of Constitutional Union and the enemies of Republican liberty. Oppressively taxed but unrepresented, loyal and true to the government but proscribed and persecuted, tendering the right hand of reconciliation but spurned and insulted, our people await the issue of the coming elections with an anxiety proportionate to the tremendous and vital interests involved. That issue is to be decisive of our fate. It is to determine the national destiny of ten States and the individual destinies of eight millions of people. It is to decide whether our Republican form of government is to be preserved in its integrity, or whether it is to be converted into an engine of further oppression, a mere despotism of numbers and possibly a wild and turbulent anarchy. We do not over-state the issue. In the face of the avowed purposes of the Radical faction, in the light of passing events, in view of the exhibitions of popular passion in the North and West, and in further view of the threats of the malignant men who sympathize with Radicalism in the South, it would be worse than folly to shut our eyes to what lies before us, in the event of the success of the enemies of the President, the Union and the South.

In so disastrous a contingency, the programme of degradation and ruin to the South has been proclaimed, with fiendish emphasis and precision, by Mr. Thaddeus Stevens, in his recent speech at Bedford. In order that our people may see what is in store for them, we shall, on to-morrow, publish the most material portions of that satanic production. For to-day we simply epitomize its doctrines, as follows:

1. The destruction of existing State governments in the South as illegal, and providing for the Southern States governments as conquered provinces.

2. The confiscation of Southern property to pay the expenses of the war.

3. Homesteads for the negro soldiers out of Southern property.

4. Negro suffrage.

To which may be added the certain impeachment of President Johnson,—a step likely to light the fires of civil war at the North and wrap the whole country in flames.

It is one of the most astonishing developments of all history, and is a most sad commentary upon the degeneracy of human nature and of the times, that men can be found in our own midst who will welcome such horrors upon their own kith and kin, their own neighbors and fellow-citizens. Nor does the plea of some of them, that they are influenced in their present course by a desire to stave off greater evils, by accepting the lesser, avail them. We might ratify the Howard amendment to-morrow, and, as Mr. Seward said, in his late speech in New York, we have no "guarantee" that we should be a whit nearer "restoration" than we are this day. No, the demon of ultra abolitionism craves to be glutted. The Moloch will be satisfied with nothing short of our utter prostration. The Howard amendment is but one step in that direction, and those who endorse it, as a general rule, know the fact, and sanction and accept it as such. No true Southern man, no friend of Constitutional Union, can embrace it, without being privy to his own and his people's ruin. If the avalanche is to descend, let us meet it with the composure and dignity of self-respecting manhood.

But will the Radicals triumph in the approaching elections? We do not desire our people to wrap themselves in a false security. It is pleasant to hug the phantom of hope, but it is safer and better to prepare for the worst. While we say this, we are by no means without great hope of a favorable result. We look with considerable confidence for such gains of Congressmen in New York, Pennsylvania, and several of the Western States, as may reduce the Radical preponderance below the two-thirds necessary to enable them to pass measures over the Presidential veto. The result of the recent elections in New England give us no discouragement. We had not anticipated a different result in that quarter. "Ephraim is joined to his idols." But the influence of the action of the National Union Convention, and of the Soldiers' Cleaveland Convention, the good effects of the President's tour, the sanguine tone of the Press, the confident predictions of leading politicians, all inspire us with hope that the large States will interpose their mighty forms to stave off destruction from the country. The interval is momentous and epochal.

One thing is certain, and our people, however powerless they may become, will cherish the feeling in their hearts: If we are given over to the tender mercies of Radicalism, no class of men will be more responsible for it than those in the South, who have connived and sympathized with that fell spirit!

Demagoguism.

The people of North Carolina have had so many evidences, for twenty-five years, of the utter unscrupulousness and demagoguism of Mr. Holden, as a politician, that we presume it is a work of supererogation to undertake to prove them. No man is better known in the State than he, and the political course of no man has been so universally condemned. That it has been of such a character, we sincerely deplore and regret. None would rejoice more than ourselves, if it had been consistent, wise, and true to the people of North Carolina.

He has long practised upon the credulity of the people, and, taking advantage of the known past disposition of the masses to rely upon him for information, he has often misled them.—That day, we hope, is passed by forever. Yet he still employs his artifices to deceive.

If we thought, for a moment, that any appeal we could make would reach his ears and heart, in behalf of our impoverished and suffering people, how urgently would we beg him to desist from a course so suicidal to his own Southern people and his own native State, as the advocacy of measures which he knows must be damning and ruinous to the white race! He must perceive the danger which awaits us if Radical principles and measures triumph, yet, to gratify his chafed and chagrined political ambition, he publishes, or conceals, what may best promote his aims. He pretends still to hold to the President's policy, while, at the same time, both in public and private, he is doing what he can to commend the Radical policy to the people and to divide and distract them. In pulling down ruin upon the heads of the people of North Carolina, can he do otherwise than perish himself under the same ruins? Can he hope to shield himself from the storm which he is invoking? If so, he is either deluded or demented?

What can he, or any native true Southron, gain by promoting the Radical policy? Echo answers what. Gov. Worth has devoted himself assiduously to the Executive duties of the State. Does Mr. Holden suppose,—can he be vain enough to suppose,—that his election as Governor could have accelerated a whit Congressional restoration? Does he suppose the people so ignorant that he can make them believe that Gov. Holden, or Gov. Worth, or Gov. anybody else, could have contributed a pin towards moving the Radical Congress to restore us? Why, then, should he expose his own trickery and demagoguism? But suppose Gov. Holden, if elected, could and would have done it? How would he have done it? He says that Tennessee has gotten in. We ask him to answer, categorically, would he reduce North Carolina to the status of Tennessee? Would he put her people in the condition of that people? Would he have packed her Legislature, as Brownlow did, to force the Howard amendment upon North Carolina? Is his programme Brownlow's programme! Let the people compare his movements, his paper, his temper, with that of Brownlow, and they will see a striking similarity in the animus of the two. There is this difference: Mr. Brownlow is open and frank; while Mr. Holden is reticent, concealed and politic.

Forsythe County.

Col. Covington and Col. Matthews, both of Stokes Co., we believe, are candidates for the Senatorial District of Forsythe and Stokes.—They are decided Johnson-Worth men, we understand, and are clever gentlemen. They differ upon State issues.

At a meeting held recently in Salem, Capt. P. A. Wilson and E. B. Teague, Esq., were nominated for the Commons. The Winston Sentinel says that E. B. Teague is an avowed, open Radical and opposed to the Johnson and Worth platform. It does not understand precisely Capt. Wilson's position. It would surprise us if Capt. P. A. Wilson has so stultified himself, as to become a supporter of the Radical policy. He must be brought out fully on that subject. Is he for President Johnson and Gov. Worth, or is he for Thaddeus Stevens and Mr. Holden? That is the issue.—As to merely State issues, they should not divide, by any means, the supporters of President Johnson's policy. Charles Teague, Esq., one of the late members from Forsythe, has declared himself an independent candidate. In a late speech, he talks like a reasonable and sensible man, if the Sentinel reports him correctly. He says:

"He was in favor of the administration of President Johnson and intended to support it just as long as the President stood firmly for the rights of his section, the Constitution and the Union; he was a Union man and opposed to extreme measures on either the side of the North or the South, and thought that those who were now opposing the reconstruction of the Union were about as far wrong as the secessionists were in 1860. He denounced the charge that the Union men of this County had been oppressed by the secessionists as groundless and false. There was not an office-holder in the County who was not a Union man,—an overwhelming majority of the people were in favor of the Union."

That is the true doctrine. We might differ with Mr. Teague on some State issues, but he is honest and devoted to the interests of the people, and we hope he will beat overwhelmingly E. B. Teague, the Radical. What has become of our friend, Dr. W. H. Wheeler? He made a capital representative, and we were in hopes to see him returned. The repeal of the Stay Law is an issue in Forsythe. Why should the Johnson-Worth men risk a great National issue on mere State issues?

General N. B. Forrest has addressed a circular to the officers formerly in his command, for the purpose of obtaining such reports and information as they may be able to furnish, in order to make a full history of his and their operations.

Increase of Taxes.

We observe that some anxiety is felt in different quarters in regard to the probabilities of an increase of the State tax in North Carolina.—The impression seems to prevail that the Legislature will feel itself obliged to raise the present tax for revenue considerably. We are at a loss to account for such an impression. The present oppressive Federal tax is already greater than can be borne with any convenience by our impoverished people. The existing State tax, added to this, we learn from all quarters, is about all that our people can possibly wag under.—We have heard no one express an opinion favorable to an increase of the tax. However desirable it might be, under other circumstances, to prosecute our works of internal improvement and maintain the credit of the State, the very general complaint which we hear from all parts of the State, with few exceptions, of the failure of the corn crop, would render all propositions to increase the public burden positively suicidal.

So far from increasing the tax under such circumstances, the times call for retrenchment in our expenses, both in public and private matters. The past two years have been severe enough, but if the crops should fall as short as some seem to anticipate, the next year must be more severely felt in pecuniary matters than the past, in those sections, especially, where corn is the principal crop and where it has been cut off. The cotton section may do better, but other sections must suffer.

We cannot tell at this day what will be the complexion of the Legislature, in reference to State matters, but no man, who represents the people, can be blind to their condition, and to the hardships and suffering which a high State tax would bring about at this time. All discussions upon this subject are premature, and do harm. He must be blind and deaf to public sentiment, however, who would now advocate making the public burden heavier than the absolute necessities of the public interest require.

The Approaching Gubernatorial Election---Gov. Worth.

For some time we thought Gov. Worth would have no opposition at the approaching election. In this, we may have been mistaken. We see that the radicals propose to hold a Convention in Raleigh, on the 20th inst., for the purpose of bringing out a candidate representing their own peculiar views. What sort of a platform they will adopt remains to be seen. It will, doubtless, be ambiguous. They will probably not openly denounce the President or endorse Congress. But let no one be deceived by them.—Whatever they say, they are opposed to the President's plan of reconstruction, and in favor of that of Congress. They are for the Howard Amendment. What that amendment is we need not inform our readers. They may study it for themselves in our every issue between this and the day of the election. Many of these men, whatever they may profess, are in favor of negro suffrage—we mean those among them who are reckless office seekers. They think by this means they can obtain the offices and control the government of the State. This was avowed by delegates from the Southern States at the recent Philadelphia Convention. What delusion!

* * * * * * *

Gen. Logan, who has little sagacity, may consent to become their candidate. We have nothing to say against him personally. He is, no doubt, a very worthy citizen, but "he can't come it." The white basis may be fixed up as a sort of hobby for him, but it will deceive nobody. All understand that the contest is between Conservatism and Radicalism—between the principles of the first Philadelphia Convention and the recent one. Between the two our people cannot hesitate. They are for the Union under the Constitution as it is. The great mass of them were opposed to secession. They never believed in the existence of any such right under the Constitution. Even those few who did believe in the right have accepted the issue of the late war as final. They regard the question as settled forever. But they are equally opposed to the consolidation proposed by the Howard Amendment and the Radicals. Thus we conclude that whoever may be the candidate of this party, he is destined to an overwhelming defeat. That sterling old patriot JONATHAN WORTH, who has prescided with so much ability over the Executive Department of the State Government for the last year, is destined to do yet further and greater service to the State in that exalted position.

And why should he not be elected? What reason can his opponents give for their opposition to him? Literally none, except that he has not appointed them or their adherents to office to the exclusion of better men—that he has pursued a policy of conciliation—that he has endeavored to soothe the asperities of the past rather than join with those who, regardless of the best interests of their country, for the sake of personal aggrandisement would leave the breach unhealed forever—that he has exhited that charity and magnanimity which are the brightest and the noblest characteristics of the high-toned and christian gentleman—that he will not continue a bitter contest with men upon a question they have surrendered, and which has been settled in the most authoritative manner in which such questions can be settled—that being a Union man he is yet capable of sympathizing deeply and profoundly with the sufferings and misfortunes of his misguided countrymen of the South—that he prefers country to party, the country which he recoguizes, and the harmony and prosperity of which he desires to promote, being nothing less than the whole of the United States.—Old North State.

The Constitutional Amendment Ratified by New Jersey.

TRENTON, Sept. 11.—The Senate ratified the Constitutional amendment by a vote of eleven to ten. The vote in the House was thirty-four to twenty-four.

The California Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Out of nine counties heard from in the recent local elections, seven have gone Administration.

THAT DELEGATION AGAIN.—Wm. P. Moore, Esq., called upon us yesterday morning and requested us to state that no one had any authority or permission to put his name in the list of delegates appointed by Mr. C. R. Thomas in this city. He had nothing to do with that or any other political meeting—is not and never has been a meddler with politics, but always exercised his own judgment in voting, and now supports the President and Gov. Worth.—Newbern Commercial.

LETTER FROM RICHMOND.

Present Appearance of the City---Improvements, &c,---Ballard House---Gov. Pierpoint---Cholera---Reconciliation and Reconstruction---The last Soldier killed at Petersburg.

RICHMOND, Sept. 12, 1866.

Editors of the Sentinel:—A "Confederate" who has never visited Richmond, since the good old days of its existence as the Capital of our quondam Confederacy, would hardly recognize it to-day. Main Street, which but a little more than a year ago presented a heart sickening scene of ruin and desolation, is daily assuming every appearance of a handsome business thoroughfare. Already several squares have been entirely built up, and in all the others the vacant lots are rapidly being filled. The buildings are of the handsomest modern styles, many of them elaborately finished, and everybody seems to wish to vie with his neighbor when he goes to build.

We will have, when the burned district is built up,—which will not be long, from present indications,—one of the most beautiful business portions of a city in the country. One cannot but wonder, when he looks at the handsome buildings built and being built, and, contrasting the appearance of the city in April '65, and its appearance of to-day, considers that, at that dreadful time, when all was ruin, $50,000 of ready money could not be raised in the whole city. That amount would not suffice to build one of many structures that have been erected since that time. Even allowing that a large or the greater part of the capital used in building comes from the North, the people of this city have done well, in the work of restoring it to its former prosperity. Many of our old merchants are getting up in the world once more, and hope to be able to offer your merchants inducements to trade here instead of carrying their capital further North. Even now boots and shoes, dry goods and drugs can be bought here as cheap as in Baltimore or New York, and of a quality equally as good.

Among the old standing institutions which has lately been revived by its old owners is the Ballard House. Shortly after the evacuation it was taken in charge by parties who "tought agin us," (under Beast Butler,) and, on this account, was not reckoned as an appropriate stopping place for a Southern man. Of late, however, those well known Virginia gentlemen, Messrs. John P. and Thos. E. Ballard, have resumed charge of it, and we hardly need add that it is now a first class Southern Hotel. The Ballards were always princes of caterers, and the war has not demoralized them in the slightest in this respect, for they seem still to know what is good, and their table is as well supplied as ever.

I noticed, a few days since, in the columns of that delectable journal of yours, the Standard, an accusation of ingratitude against the press of Virginia for denouncing Pierpoint as an usurper. The writer goes on to enumerate the number of things for which we have to thank our "Governor." He tells us that many of us are indebted to him for having saved our property from confiscation, procured us pardons, etc. etc. We are sorry that more of our people are not aware of this fact, for, if they were, they certainly would not be guilty of abusing "His Excellency." It would be well for the Standard to address itself to the people of this State, and point out to them more particularly the many things for which they ought to thank this "great" man. This, I imagine, would have a fine effect. Our people have never yet been able to percieve how greatly they were benefitted by his appearance among them, or (if you will excuse a slang expression) "they couldn't see it," and as they have the credit of being an appreciative and patriotic people, such an article as I have suggested, from that eminently loyal journal, would doubtless work an entire change in favor of His Excellency. True, he has offered some slight insults to our people; as, for instance, when he refused to let General Colston have the Hall of the House of Delegates in which to deliver his lecture upon "personal recollections of Stonewall Jackson." He, (the "Governor" of the State that was honored by being the mother of Jackson) he, alone, dared to say that "he was an old fool, and that there was nothing to admire in the man," who had won honor and fame throughout the world, and rendered the name of the cause he served immortal. It is to be presumed, however, that Virginians can forget the indignity thus offered him whose life shed glory upon Virginia's name, and whose death was one of the saddest effents of their lives, in consideration of the brilliant picture of the great services done the State by "His Excellency," which we hope the Standard will draw for us. This journal, furthermore, informs us that if we "had half a chance, we would unseat Governor Pierpoint by the strong hand and put Gen. Lee or Gov. Wise in his place." I wonder if the Standard really thinks so? I am inclined to think it is joking with us, when it professess seriously to believe that we would rather have Gen. Lee, or old Gov. Wise even, than the present profoundly loyal and patriotic "Governor." That is a poor joke, Mr. Standard, and we will make you ashamed of it, when the next Gubernatorial election comes off.

The Cholera has made its appearance in our midst, though by no means to an extent that would justify any alarm. There has been a good deal of it among the soldiers near here, but, in nearly every case, the disease has been the result of great imprudence. The same is the case in the city, which will readily be seen from the reports of deaths, which show that three fourths of the mortality is among the negroes, who are notoriously imprudent. With these few exceptions, the City is in better health than it has been for some time.

I am glad to state that our people are fast getting over that rather fearful state of apathy in regard to politics, which seemed to have grown upon them some months ago. At that time they were so thoroughly disgusted with the men in Congress, and so deeply embittered by their murderous policy towards them, that although they could not but acknowledge that they owed allegiance to the United States Government, they could not look upon that Government as their own. Their cause had been lost and their country ruined; they had accepted the issue as became them, and returned in all sincerity to their old allegiance; but their wishes were treated with indifference, their sincerest professions were doubted, until, embittered by the insults heaped upon them, and scorning the men who had shown so little of generosity, justice, or magnanimity, they ceased to care for representation among them. This state of feeling, which could not have been beneficial to the people, would have continued but for the glorious stand taken by President Johnston, and the action of the Philadelphia Convention. By the one they have been inspired with a hope that military power has ceased among them, and in the other they look for the formation of a party, which, once in power, will restore at least a semblance of constitutional order and liberty to the country.

The President has now but one thing to do to inspire our people with the fullest confidence in him, and to make himself looked upon in every respect as the benefactor of the South. Ask of every true Southern man in this State, "what remains for the President to do?" and the reply will almost invariably be "release Jefferson Davis." God grant that he may do this before long!

Some time since, I had my attention called to an article in some North Carolina paper concerning the last soldier killed at Petersburg.—The honor was rightfully conferred upon a North Carolinian, but his name and regiment were mis-stated. I read the following from the diary of a friend, formerly a soldier in General Lee's army:

"I was notified at about 3 o'clock in the morning by a member of the Engineer troops to leave the city at once, as the bridges over the Appomattox were about to be burned, and the city was entirely evacuated. I rode down to Pocahontas bridge, and found the Engineers ready to fire it. I dismounted my horse, determined upon seeing the old Cockade City, which we had defended so faithfully, as long as I could. Every picket had passed out of the town, horsemen sent for that purpose had reported that there were no troops in it, and at about half-past three the bridge was fired. In the meantime the enemy had entered the city, and were opening their batteries upon us. As I was in the act of mounting my horse, a shell burst near by and I heard some one fall, muttering a few words indistinctly. I looked afound and saw a fine looking young man in the agonies of death, having been struck in the breast with a fragment of the shell. I was told that his name was Mebane, and that he was a Corporal in Co. "F" 1st Regt. Engineer Troops, and was from North Carolina. His companions spoke of him in the most affectionate terms, and as one of the best soldiers in the Regiment. As I started to go I turned and looked upon the body, which lay wrapped in a blanket on the roadside. Considering the uncertainty of our fate, I said to myself, "poor fellow, you are better off where you are, perhaps, than many of us may be in a few days," and with a prayer that God might comfort those who would mourn for him at home, I turned my horse's head and rode off."

All honor to this lost son of the good old North State, who fought for his cause, and with it breathed his last! In Virginia's bosom rest thousands of the sons of her sister, and faithfully will she cherish the memory of their deeds. For her, their blood was mingled with the first that was shed upon her soil, and when the troops of the South were miles away from it, a gallant North Carolinian lay weltering in his blood at Petersburg! "VIRGINIUS."

Rev. Dr. Tyng on the Union---He Endorses Mr. Beecher.

When Mr. Beecher found it necessary to decline the invitation to take part in the proceedings of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Union Convention at the Convention on the 27th. inst., Rev. Dr. Tyng was invited to act in his stead. To this invitation he has just sent the following reply:

ST. GEORGE'S RECTORY, Sept. 6, 1866.

Gen. Charles G. Halpine:

My Dear Sir:—My home engagements and personal infirmities render it impossible for me to give the time or effort which would be involved in the journey and duty you propose.—I should be glad to give you a different reply if it were in my power. I have read with great delight Mr. Beecher's unanswerable letter, and desire to thank him for the fidelity and power with which he has accomplished so good a work. I shall honor the soldiers and sailors of the nation if they give their cordial and united support to the sound and healthful principles which he proclaims and sustains. It will be a glorious result, if the people of the land unite with them in the universal determination, that union, liberty and generous interpretation and action shall end all the controversies of the day in which we live, in the immediate and complete reconstruction and combined establishment of our whole nation as one harmonious and prosperous people.

That a conquering army should desire this seems but accordant with the spirit of a generous victor. That they should assemble in a peaceful fellowship to avow and to promote it, is but exercising their rights as citizens, and fulfilling their obligations as intelligent leaders of their fellow men; and that ministers of a religion of peace and good-will should sustain and encourage a purpose and movement so honorable to the nation, would appear to be the plainest dictate of duty in the position which they sustain, and relate us to the people among whom they dwell.

I cannot refuse, therefore, to approve and indorse the meeting which is proposed, or the platform on which it avows itself to stand.

Your friend and servant, with much regard,

STEPHEN H. TYNG.

How it was Managed.

Brownlow delivered an address to the Loyal League of Philadelphia last Saturday evening, at their hall, in the course of which he detailed what had been done and what would be done in Tennessee to maintain radical ascendancy therein. As a sample of the farce of free government under the radical idea, it is worthy of notice.

We quote:

"The next great act of that Legislature was to disfranchise eighty thousand voters in the State of Tennessee. (Renewed applause.) A close and accurate calculation had shown forty thousand loyal voters in the State, and eighty thousand rebel voters, and they had disfranchised the rebels, who had in consequence raised a terrible howl. When the Legislature reassembled on the first Monday of next December, they intendad to arm the loyal masses of the State (applause), to enforce the Franchise Law, and either keep the rebels from the ballot-box or have a fight. The rebels boasted that they had President Johnson on their side; but even so, the speaker's friends had on their side truth and righteousness, the loyal North, and the loyal world. By means of the policy which would be pursued in Tennessee, fifty or sixty thousand negro votes would be added to the forty thousand loyal votes, and this would put the Union cause ahead."

It is a confounding of the most hostile principles to call that a republican government in which political privileges are legislated away from eighty thousand of the one hundred and twenty thousand voters in the State. But the fact is not more significant, or full of sinister forebodings, than that the State of Andrew Jackson, Felix Grundy and James K. Polk should be presided over by so vulgar a ruffian as the author of the above.—Petersburg Index.

The Boston Pilot likes the bold, frank manner of the President in addressing the people, and says, "he does right to defend himself and his policy against the rude and brutal attacks of the Radical Congress, press and mob. He talks plainly to the people, and they understand him. Figuratively, when he speaks, thirty millions of people listen. Single handed and alone, with truth, sincere love for the Union, a reverence for the Constitution, and determination to enforce the laws, he can meet and overturn his enemies."

There are now 60,000 to 100,000 head of Texas cattle pastured along the eastern and northern limits of the State, and destined for the markets of the Mississippi.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Ditson & Co., with their choice musical publications, are on hand again.

Conant & Hunter, General Commission Merchants, Portsmouth, will supply bagging and rope, to be paid for in cotton this fall.

Jno. C. Washington, Esq., offers for sale a valuable tract of land, abounding in marl, near Neuse River and Atlantic and N. C. Railroad.

Fullerton and West, No. 226, corner of Charles and Baltimore Streets, Baltimore, offer a first-class new stock of Foreign and Domestic Cloths, Cassimeres, &c.

Blagge & Co., 30 Craven St., Newbern, present an attractive bill of fare to the public. We invite attention to their advertisement.

C. E. Dunn, of N. C., with Wyche and Parker, Sycamore St., Petersburg, calls attention to their splendid stock of Boots, Shoes, Trunks, &c. This is an enterprising and reliable firm. See two Court advertisements from Chowan.

BEFORE THE MAYOR.—Wm. Thomas, the freedman, who was guilty of the outrage on the premises of Mr. Hughes, on Wednesday evening, alluded to in our last issue, was up before the Mayor on yesterday,—having been arrested by Chief of Police, Parker. After an investigation His Honor bound him over to Court in the sum of $500, and Mr. Wm. Simpson became his security.

We were in error, we learn, in stating that Thomas struck Mrs. Hughes. He entered the house forcibly, was abusive in his language, pulled her violently and threatened to strike, but did not actually do so. The whole outrage, however, was of an aggravated character and deserves severe punishment.

THE HARRELL FAMILY.—Dont forget the Vocal and Instrumental Concert to be given, this evening, at the Commons Hall, by this musical family. The soul-stirring and patriotic song, in honor of our own Carolina, and composed by Dr. Harrell, will be repeated to-night, at the request of many of the citizens of Raleigh. The little prodigies, Ida and Rosa, will present rare musical attractions this evening. Go and see them.

BASE-BALL CLUB No 2.—We are requested to give notice that the first meeting of this Club will be held on Monday night, at 8 o'clock.

THE WESTERN COUNTIES.—We hope our readers, on yesterday, did not overlook the very interesting and sensible letter from Ashville, of our correspondent "Itinerant." We hope to receive many such from the same source. He delights and instructs our readers. Indeed, we beg our friends, all over the State, to send us letters on all subjects relating to the condition of our people, the crops, the mineral and manufacturing resources of the State, the progress of mining and manufacturing, the character of our lands, the prices of lands, and the educational and political developments in each County. The people of the State, and the people at the North and South, are interested in the material interests of every County in the State. We wish every intelligent friend we have would be impressed with the duty to "write." We want facts—truthful facts.

METHODISM.—The Rev. Peter Doub, of Greensboro', has published a card requesting the preachers in all the circuits to collect immediately, and forward to him, the best information they can get on Methodistic History. The following are the points he desires information on:—1. When was Methodism introduced into your section? 2. By whom? 3. What were its results then? 4. What is its state and condition now?

THE LEGISLATURE.—Dr. I. W. Jones and Jno. K. Graham are announced as candidates for the House of Commons from Rowan.

Cols. J. M. Covington and J. E. Matthews are opposing candidates for the Senate from the District of Stokes and Forsythe.

J. L. Mitchell, Esq., of Bertie, announces himself as a candidate for the House of Commons from that County.

WILMINGTON.—The Wilmington Journal speaks of the large number of vessels in that port at the present time. The quantity of lumber and naval stores, which finds a market in Wilmington, creates a demand for vessels and contributes largely to its business. We observe, too, a commendable energy and business tact among the merchants of that City. We rejoice at the present and prospective prosperity of all our sea-port towns. Wilmington, Newbern and Morehead City are all exerting themselves. This is right and praiseworthy. They are not rivals, but fair competitors for the trade of our people. Our people want two things: promptness, or dispatch, and cheapness. In this regard we hope all of them are doing their best.

NEW HANOVER COUNTY.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Johnson-Worth conservatives of New Hanover was held in Wilmington on Wednesday. Dr. H. F. Murphy presided and Capt. Benj. Robinson and Col. Jno. L. Cantwell were appointed Secretaries.

General News.

The electioneering committee of twenty-eight, appointed by the mixed convention of Southern loyalists at Philadelphia, for the purpose of paying a visit to the tomb of President Lincoln and to address the radical element on the way, left Philadelphia on Monday. Brownlow and Hamilton spoke at Trenton on that day, and Randolph, the colored man, and Mr. Moss addressed a crowd of about ten thousand at Newark, about six thousand of whom it is estimated were Johnson men. During the speech they were saluted with hisses and groans and cheers for Andy Johnson. On their arrival in New York the delegates will be received by the Loyal League Club, and will deliver speeches at Cooper Institute and also at Beecher's church and the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, in the evening.

Within three days—on the 17th of September—the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, called by upwards of three hundred officers, including those of the highest and lowest rank, will assemble at Cleveland, Ohio. Those are invited who approve the restoration policy of the President, and the principles announced by the National Union Convention, at Philadelphia.

WITH EFFUSION.—"Mack," the graphic correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, says that when Molasses-colored Randolph was speaking in the black-and-tan convention in favor of negro suffrage, Fred Douglas was so excited that he seized Anna Dickinson's Derby hat and flung it into the air, and Anna in her turn grabbed Fred's beaver and whirled it triumphantly aloft.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 11.—4, P. M.—The President and party have arrived in this city. Thousands and thousands of people arrived early to greet them, and over 15,000 were gathered in the streets to welcome the President, which they did with demonstrations of great joy and prolonged cheering. They were escorted through the principal streets by the military and civic authorities.

Resolved, That we scout and scorn, as unworthy of freemen, that political blasphemy which says, "This is the white man's Government."

Jack Hamilton says that the Radicals of the Middle States and the North overslaughed the negro for the purpose of securing their own re-elections to Congress. There is considerable bitterness of feeling among the Radicals in relation to the doings of their Convention.

The rapid accumulation of gold in the Treasury will, if continued, soon afford a metalic basis for the Treasury notes in circulation. It is estimated that by the end of this month the Treasury will have nearly, if not quite, one hundred millions in gold.

The Clement C. Clay, whose death was announced a few days since, was the father of Hon. C. C. Clay, the state prisoner. The mother of the latter died during his confinement at Fortress Monroe.

An eccentric Englishman, just dead, left a large amount of money, the interest of which is to be given quinquennially to five young maidens who are to dance round his monument.

The latest name for drinks is "Noon Dispatches."

It has been asked when rain falls does it ever get up again? Of course it does in dew time.

The Emperor of Austria is just 35 years old and is about "used up."

The Strife of Three Cities.

A long mooted question in musical circles has recently been permanently settled to the great satisfaction of lovers of justice generally, and especially to the delight of Southerners, who have watched the long struggle with intense interest. Boston, New York and Baltimore have been the contending parties in this prolonged dispute, which was boldly inaugurated by Messrs. Wm. Knabe & Co., of Baltimore, to determine whether the "hub," the metropolis of the Monumental City, could turn out the best American piano. The great commercial town of Maryland can claim to lead. And this decision has not resulted from any one stated trial, but from a series of thorough comparative tests in New York, Chicago and other important business centres of the country. In every instance parties opposed to the "Knabe piano" have been fairly beaten before an honest committee, or have refused utterly to meet the issue and backed down in the face of imminent defeat. This must settle the issue as fully as if a national convention had decided it, and in the future the South can boast of manufacturing the best piano of the country. Knabe & Co. have been making these superb instruments for thirty years, and their fame is nothing new; but other piano concerns have sprung into existence meanwhile, claiming to beat the old house at its own trade, and a contest with them was inevitable. Hence the various trials as above.

People will have their prejudices in favor of one or another maker, and must be humored in them; but an article so long tried as this,—one that has so often proved superior and freely accorded this palm by the best judges of Europe and America, has certainly more than ordinary claims upon a purchaser's attention. Substantial, durable, handsome to look at, delightful to listen to, keeping in tune longer than any other known, having a delicate touch and giving such quality and purity of tone as only a "Knabe" can, we cannot but commend the universal verdict in their favor. The great Southern house is again being extended to meet the wants of its immense and constantly increasing business, and this triumphant success, overlapping a quarter of a century, is, after all, the true and indisputable test of worth.

A visit to their excellent warerooms, No. 650 Broadway, in this city, will demonstrate the superiority of these celebrated instruments still more fully than any description which could be given of them.

[We have been acquainted with the Pianos manufactured by Messrs. W. Knabe, & Co., of Baltimore, for many years, and we unhesitatingly say that we do not believe they have their superiors in the United States, for tone, durability and finish.—Sentinel.]

THE ORPHANS OF THE SOUTH.—To-day the noble-hearted ladies of Baltimore open the fair for the orphans of Southern soldiers. God bless them for it! Knowing the sufferings of the poor little ones whose heroic fathers fell in battle, they have resolved, as far as in their power lies, to take by the hand the little ones who are now wandering on the world's wide and dreary common, and lead them into a refuge and a haven of rest, where they will be screened from the storms and slights of the world.—Richmond Whig of yesterday.

"Does the razor take hold well?" inquired a barber who was shaving a gentleman from the country. "Yes," replied the customer, with tears in his eyes, "it takes hold first-rate, but it don't let go worth a red cent."

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

A New Era In Medicine

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1866. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first-class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.
